ALICE ASHTON'S LIFE

It is Alice Ashton's seventieth birthday. Today she looks back on the last seventy years and all the things she has done in her lifetime.

She has been to college, and she has seen the world. She has visited more countries than she can count. She has traveled in North and South America, she has cycled through Europe, she has backpacked through Asia, she has driven across Africa. She has crossed the Sahara Desert, and she has taken a boat trip up the Nile River. She has swum in the Pacific Ocean, the Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea. She has never been to Australia but she has visited New Zealand.

She has stayed in expensive hotels and in very cheap hotels. She has eaten in the best restaurants in Paris and in the cheapest cafes in Havana. She has visited the richest and the poorest neighborhoods.

She has had a lot of different experiences. She has lived in three foreign countries: Spain, Colombia and Portugal. She has had thirteen different jobs. She has worked for forty-eight years, and she still works every day.

She has not made much money in her life, but she has met a lot of interesting people and she has made many true friends. So she thinks she has been very lucky!

Have you ever visited New Zealand?*
Ты когда-нибудь был в Новой Зеландии?

She has never been to Australia.
Она никогда не была в Австралии.

2. действий, которые совершились в прошлом, но связаны с незаконченным периодом времени.

Маркерами незаконченного периода времени являются:

а) обстоятельства времени today, this week, this month, this semester [sɪ'mestə].

Rob has had five cups of coffee today.
Роб выпил пять чашек кофе сегодня.

б) обстоятельства времени recently ['riːsntlɪ] (недавно – в последние недели, месяцы), lately ['leɪtlɪ] (недавно – в последние дни, недели), so far (пока), before (раньше).

Alice Ashton has recently published a book about her travels.
Элис Эштон недавно опубликовала книгу о своих путешествиях.

в) обстоятельства времени in/over the last few days (за последние несколько дней), in/over the past few years (за последние несколько лет).

We have met a lot of interesting people in the last few days.*
За последние несколько дней мы познакомились со многими интересными людьми.

3. действий, которые начались в прошлом и все еще продолжаются (с глаголами, не употребляющимися в Continuous). Маркерами являются: for (в течение) и since [sɪns] (с).

They have known Lucy for ten years.
Они знают Люси десять лет.

I have been here since early morning.
Я нахожусь здесь с раннего утра.

GOING ON A JOURNEY

Alvaro Neil was a lawyer in Spain when a year ago he completely changed the course of his life. He suddenly realized that there was more to life than a nine to five job. He decided to bring together the three things he loved most in life – cycling, performing and helping other people. So he gave up his job and sold his car to cycle around South America and to perform as a clown for free. And in October last year he set out on his South American adventure.

He began his journey in Bolivia and so far he has visited six countries – Bolivia, Argentina, Chile, Peru, Colombia and Ecuador. He has cycled more than 15,000 kilometers. The journey has already taken him thirteen months.

He has never stopped off for more than five days in any one place. And he has never spent more than three dollars a day. He has slept in fire stations, police stations and churches, at 4,700 meters in the mountains of Peru and in the dry Atacama Desert of Chile.

He has given about 25 performances to more than 8,000 people. He has performed for the poorest people. His purpose has been to make them smile and bring them a little happiness. At the end of one performance a little girl ran up to him from the audience and gave him a kiss and a hug. This has been one of his sweetest memories so far.

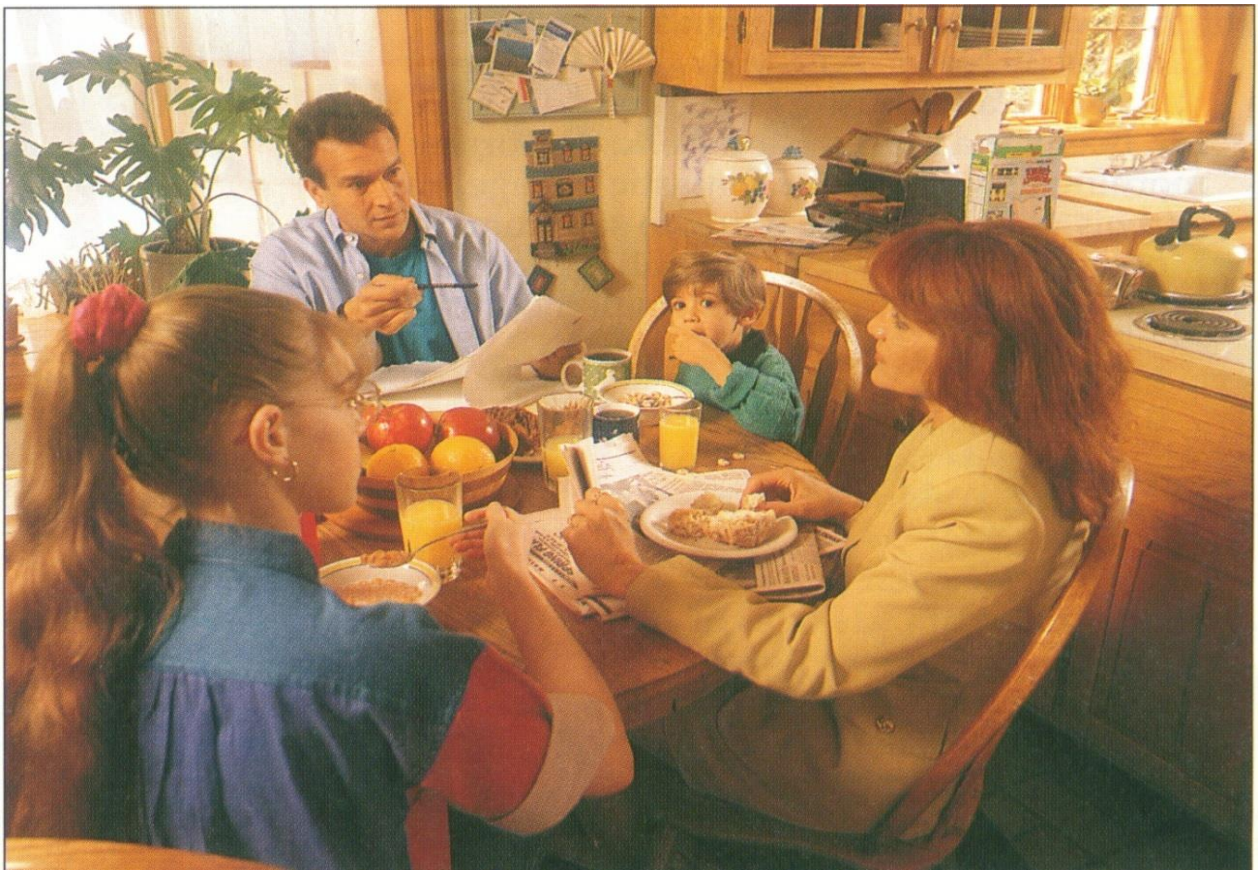
Read and translate the text

MONDAY MORNING



It's Monday morning. The Browns are having breakfast. Emily Brown is in a bad mood. She is not happy with her job in an office. Her husband Dan who is a programmer is trying to encourage her.

Dan: What's the matter, honey?
Emily: Oh, I don't know.
Dan: Come on! Something's the matter! What is it?
Emily: It's just life. It's so boring.
Dan: It's not that bad. We have two wonderful children.
Emily: That's right. And we never have any time with them.
Dan: Well, we both have to work.
Emily: It's all right for you. I'll leave in five minutes, but you'll be here all day.
Dan: Sure, but your day will be interesting and you'll meet people. I'll be here in front of the computer screen all day. I won't talk to anyone.
Emily: You're lucky. You can work at home.

Dan: Yeah, but you like your job, Emily.
Emily: What? Who will I meet today? What will I do? I'll tell you, Dan. I'll get on the same train, and then I'll go to the same office. I'll speak to the same boring people and I'll listen to the same stupid jokes. Then I'll get home and help the kids with their homework.
Dan: I'll cook dinner, honey. I always do.
Emily: Yeah? But I'll wash the dishes. Then we'll watch TV again. You'll be tired and we won't talk. Then we'll do the same tomorrow. What a life!
Dan: It's just Monday morning, Emily. You'll feel OK tomorrow.
Emily: Will I?

FAMILIES HAVE A GREAT FUTURE

Twenty years ago, the typical family usually consisted of two or three generations, with many children. According to a new study by the British research group Mintel, the family is changing shape. The family groups of the future will be long and thin, with three or four small generations.

Here are some of their predictions:

1. Very few children … (to have) brothers or sisters, and it … (to be common) to be an only child.

2. Many children … (to grow up) isolated from other children and young adults. This … (to make) them more selfish and introverted.

3. More couples … (to divorce and to remarry), some more than once. So many children … (to have) a stepmother or stepfather and half-brothers or sisters.

4. There … (to be many) “boomerang children”. These children … (to leave) home and get married, but then they (to divorce and to return) to live with their parents.

5. There … (to be) more single-parent families.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT

Jack and Caroline fell in love at first sight when they met on St. Valentine's Day five years ago. Since then they have been together. Six months ago Jack gave Caroline a diamond ring, and she said "yes". Last weekend they got married.

Here is a picture of their wedding. The bride and groom are leaving the church after the wedding ceremony. Caroline is wearing a long white dress and carrying a bouquet of flowers. Jack is wearing a tuxedo and a white rose. He's holding Caroline's hand. Their friends and relatives are throwing rice. The bride and groom are both smiling because they are happy.

In a few minutes, Jack and Caroline are going to get into a white Cadillac decorated with flowers and a "Just Married" sign. Everybody is going to arrive at the reception. They are going to have dinner and drink champagne. The bride and groom are going to cut the cake. Some guests are going to make speeches, and the parents of the bride and groom are going to cry! Caroline is going to throw her bouquet, and the girls are going to try and catch it.

Later on, Jack and Caroline are going to leave the reception. They are going to change their clothes, drive to the airport and fly to Mexico for their honeymoon. In Mexico they are going to stay at a luxurious hotel. In the morning they are going to sunbathe on a superb beach and swim in the clear blue water. In the afternoon they are going to do some sightseeing and buy souvenirs. In the evening they are going to go dancing. They aren't going to tell anyone the address of their hotel!

СПОСОБЫ ВЫРАЖЕНИЯ БУДУЩЕГО ВРЕМЕНИ

Одним из способов выражения действия в будущем является оборот to be going to.

Be going to употребляется для выражения:

1. заранее принятых планов и намерений на ближайшее будущее:

I am going to buy a bike this summer.
Я собираюсь купить велосипед этим летом.

2. уверенности в том, что действие обязательно произойдет в будущем (вся ситуация указывает на то, что действие не может не произойти).

Look at those clouds[klaudz]! It is going to rain*.*
Посмотри, какие тучи! Будет дождь.

Обратите внимание на то, в чем заключается отличие употребления оборота to be going to от других способов выражения действия в будущем:

FUTURE SIMPLE УПОТРЕБЛЯЕТСЯ:	TO BE GOING TO УПОТРЕБЛЯЕТСЯ:	PRESENT CONTINUOUS УПОТРЕБЛЯЕТСЯ:

A GREAT IDEA?

Eric Noland is a second-year Business Studies student at Thames Valley University. He thinks he has found a good way to make money. He needs £5,000 to get his idea off the ground, but his father has refused to help.

"My idea is very simple, really. I already have a small website called businessessays.com and it is very successful. When business students at university have an essay to write and need some help with it they log on to the site, download essays and use them for their work.

At the moment, the site is free but if I improve it, that will change. If I make the site much bigger, it will become international. If I find some software that can translate the essays into sixteen different languages, it will be easy for people from all round the world to use my site.

If I do all the programming and find money to buy the software, everything will be ready. When I improve the site, people will pay £2.99 a month to use my service. If it is successful, I will sell advertising, too.

Of course, I can't continue with my university studies and set up the site at the same time. And if I wait, someone else will take my idea and it will be too late."

V. GRAMMAR: IF AND WHEN SENTENCES (СЛОЖНОПОДЧИНЕННЫЕ ПРЕДЛОЖЕНИЯ С ПРИДАТОЧНЫМИ ВРЕМЕНИ И УСЛОВИЯ)

УПОТРЕБЛЕНИЕ FUTURE SIMPLE И PRESENT SIMPLE

ПОМИМО ШЕСТИ СЛУЧАЕВ, РАССМОТРЕННЫХ В UNIT 1, FUTURE SIMPLE ТАКЖЕ УПОТРЕБЛЯЕТСЯ ДЛЯ ОБОЗНАЧЕНИЯ:

действий в будущем, которые совершатся при определенных обстоятельствах и условиях.

Эти условия и обстоятельства выражаются:

1. условными придаточными предложениями с союзами IF (если), IN CASE [keɪs] (в случае, если) и др.

If I find a job, I will throw a party.
Если я найду работу, я устрою вечеринку.

If I have the time, I will visit my grandparents tomorrow.
Если у меня будет время, я навещу бабушку и дедушку завтра.

2. временными придаточными предложениями с союзами WHEN (когда), AS SOON AS (как только), BEFORE (до того, как), AFTER (после того, как), TILL (до тех пор, пока), UNTIL (до тех пор, пока не) и др.

As soon as you finish work, we will have dinner.
Как только ты закончишь работу, мы поужинаем.

When I come to see you, I will bring you this book.
Когда я приду к тебе, я принесу эту книгу.

Обратите внимание на то, что в английском языке, в отличие от русского, в придаточных времени и условия никогда не употребляется будущее время. В значении будущего времени употребляется Present Simple.
